How do I enable library links in Google Scholar

Did you know that you can obtain full text articles, for any journal that the library has subscribed to, through Google Scholar?

You will need an NHS OpenAthens ID to access full text articles.
For more help with registering for an NHS OpenAthens ID, please see Helpsheet No. 01 Creating, using and managing your NHS OpenAthens Account, which is available here www.knowledge-nw.nhs.uk/faqs.

Go to Google Scholar
https://scholar.google.co.uk/

Click on the 3 lines, then click on Settings.

From that page click on Library Links.

Search for your NHS OpenAthens organisation, then place a tick when you have found the correct one and click Save.

You will need to have Cookies enabled for these settings to save for future visits. Please click the link under Save for instructions on how to do this. Alternatively you can create a Google account and this should also save your settings.
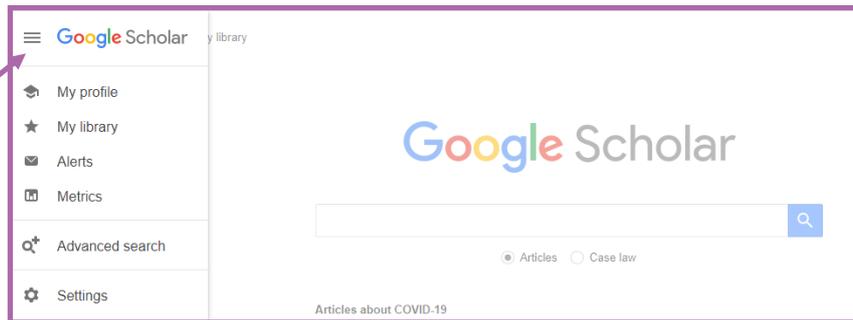

Show library access links for (choose up to five libraries):

e.g., Harvard

☑ North West Boroughs Healthcare Community Health - STHK NHS Library
☑ GPs, Practice Staff and CCG staff in Halton, Knowsley and St Helens - STHK NHS Library
☑ St Helens and Knowsley Teaching Hospitals NHS Trust - STHK NHS Library

Online access to library subscriptions is usually restricted to patrons of that library. You may need to login with your library password, use a campus computer, or configure your browser to use a library proxy. Please visit your library's website or ask a local librarian for assistance.

When you next perform a search in Google Scholar, if you see STHK NHS Library at the side of your results, this means that you will have full text access to the article.

Click on the STHK NHS Library link.
